CLIENT INFORMATION SHEET FLEA AND WORM TREATMENTS

There are now many new and older products available for flea and worm prevention in dogs and cats and the choice can be confusing. On top of this some products have changed their recommendations or 'data sheet' in terms of frequency of dosing. Lungworm (Angiostrongylus vasorum) infection in dogs has received much recent press and as we are now deemed to be in an endemic area for lungworm we would recommend prevention.

The new products available seem to be more effective than our previously recommended flea product.

It is still true that no one product does everything.

We are unable to give named product advice online so please visit your local Forest Veterinary Centre surgery and speak to your vet for up-to-date information on the products we stock.
